Mrs Dahabo, Vice chairperson Municipal board appealed to the stall owners to start their business as the market looks deserted with no much activity going on in the complex. Mrs Dahabo informed the stall owners how the Saku Modern market will help the youth and disabled create jobs.

Jacob Alamu, Leruk Abednego and Dabaso Bonaya also urges the traders to open their businesses in the ultra-modern as it boosts the development in the county. They also reminded the stall owners of the agreement they signed with the office.

They also reminded them of how the market got improved access roads, walkways and parking bays and proper lightning and ventilation that allow an airy internal environment conducive for buyers and sellers, ablution facilities and arrangements for waste disposal.

Jacob Alamu told the traders that the market is a one –stop shop for the customers which will create business hub for the people of Marsabit.

Through their leader Mr Oge, the stall owners said they are grateful for the project and are happy about the plans to relocate to the new market with ultra-modern facilities as it has created dignity of their hustles. The stall owners came to their consensus that they agree with the office of municipality and that they are to be given at least two weeks to open their business. They also agreed that in the said time if a stall owner did not open the business, they should give away the stall to the others who are ready to trade in Saku modern market.

They also suggested for arrangement of regular visits to the market by the management to ensure all matters discussed is complied with by the stall owners.
